

Typical list of required specialists for Damage, Loss and Needs Assessment

Sectors	Sub-Sectors	Discipline or Profession Required
		Essential	Desirable
Productive Sectors
	Agriculture, livestock, fishery	Agronomist	Agriculture extensionist
		Agriculture economist	Fishery biologist
		Fishery economist	Veterinarian
		Livestock economist	Food balance/security specialist
	Industry	Industrial engineer
		Industrial economist
	Commerce and Trade	Trade economist
	Mining and quarrying	Civil engineer
		Mining economist
	Tourism	Civil engineer
		Tourism economist
Social Sectors
	Education	Sociologist
	Health	Civil engineer	Public health specialist
		Medical doctor	Nutrition specialist
		Epidemiologist
	Housing	Architect	Urban planner
		Civil engineer
Infrastructure Sectors
	Transport	Civil engineers
		Railway engineers
		Transport economist
	Communications	Civil engineers
		Communications experts
	Electricity	Civil engineers
		Electrical engineers
		Economist
	Water and sanitation	Civil engineer	Public health specialist
		Sanitary engineer
Environment		Environmental economist	Biologist and other related disciplines
Macro-economic analysis		Macro-economists	Fiscal sector specialist
		Development economist
		Statistical office representative
Personal/household impact analysis		Labour economist
Gender impact analysis		Gender specialist

Note: depending on type of disaster, the list of sectors and of specialities may be adjusted as required